

SU NICHOLLS

Following a successful career as a primary music specialist, Sue Nicholls became an Advanced Skills Teacher, a post which allowed her to follow her particular passion within music education: the support of the generalist teacher.

Her books to date:

'Bobby Shaftoe Clap Your hands',
'Michael Finnigin Tap Your Chinigin',
'Music Express' [Foundation Stage] and
'The Handy Band' - published by A & C Black, demonstrate an accessible and practical approach to delivering the music curriculum.

She has contributed songs to other books, including
'Singing Sherlock 1 & 2' and
'Voiceworks at Christmas' and her new song book:
'The Song Stack', published by Music Education Supplies, is available from October 2007.

Sue has been music consultant for 'Music Box' an Early Years BBC radio programme and she currently delivers INSET nationwide as a free-lance music education consultant.
